BIG SPECULATIVE PARTY

Campaign Based on General Conditions-Disposition to Take Profits Led to Moderate Reaction and Close Was Easy and Dull.

NEW YORK, April 21.—There was quite a comprehensive upward movement of prices to-day, led by the Gould group and Baltimore & Ohio. As other parts of the prices to-day, led by the Gould group and Baltimore & Ohio. As other parts of the list came into the movement a disposition become manifest to take profits in the early leaders, which led to a moderate reaction all through the list, and the close was easy and dull.

The movement was attributed largely to professional operations, and commission houses continued to complain of the light volume of their orders. It was plain, however, that a speculative party had been organized to advance the market, and they made their operations effective-day. Their campaign seems based on general conditions. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NEW YORK, April 21.—The Evening Post says:

Further progress appeared to be made to-day by the financial community in its recognition of the fact that real conditions in the industrial and investment markets are unchanged by the Northern Securities decision. It is possible, indeed, that some of the day's recovery in prices may have been, indirectly, a result of that decision. The grave trouble with the money markets of a month ago was that in the face of stationary demand for securities, supply was increasing at a portenious raty. One of the recognized consequences of the Circuit Court's pronouncement, has been abandonment of some of these stock-and-bond-manufacturing enterprises. Insofar as this is a tangible result, it is reasonable that average prices for outstanding securities should have recovered. No principle at times harder to beat into Wall Street's head, than the principle that in the stock market, as elsewhere, increased output without increased consumption significations that an "old fashioned by professional Wall Street, and the random predictions that an "old fashioned build market" is now about to start excite in the purlieus of the Stock Exchange, merical Locomotive com. 100 1216. The Mall and Express says:
The New York Stock Exchange brought its occupancy of part of the Produce Exchange floor to a close to-day with a feeling of cheerfulness, such as has not been witnessed in the stock market for a long time past. There seemed to be a disposition on the part of members generally to prepare the situation for a strong opening on Thursday, when business will be inaugurated in the new home of the Exchange.

strong opening on Thursday, when business will be inaugurated in the new home of the Exchange.

To-day's rather sharp advance in prices, with an approach to buoyancy, was regarded as a necessary preliminary to such an opening.

Of course, conditions that prevailed on to-day's market could not have been obtained except for an improvement in the situation, and it cannot be dealed that improvement has certainly taken place of late. Yesterday's modification of the Northern Securities decision logically was the greatest factor at work, it being thoroughly recognized that the matter cannot again loom up as a distressing factor until the Supreme Court hears argument on the appeal, which cannot occur until next October, and it may possibly be delayed beyond that time.

St. Paul was firm and was not materially affected by the illness of Mr. II. II. Rogers. His friends in the street reported satisfactory news of his condition.

The first hour's trading was reasonably active, but the volume decreased gradually and there was a tendency to become dull on the advance. Sentlment was fair-by bullish, but on the last day in the Produce Exchange there was already a hint that prices would be held up and that the members on the floor might do other things than buy and sell stocks.

holiday, caused some recessions in the Lower Wall Street, however, was builish last hour, but the close was decidedly and bought a little stock.

AMALGAMATED COPPER:

A. C. P. sold off a little on the illness of Mr. Rogers, but did not act weak, and the buying on the decline looked better than the selling. Boston appears to be rather bullish, and the higher tendency of copper stock abroad is regarded as encouraging. THE GOULD BROKERS:

AFTERNOON TRADING:

The market was firm with an advancing tendency up to the early afternoon. The Gould brokers seemed to be the most active of the representatives of the larger interests, but there was a general good natured desire to advance prices cheerfully before the close, and the room traders were generally liciping the improvement.

Reading reflected the covering of shorts on rumors of settlement of the trouble-some Ichor question. This was more ef-fective than the Interstate Commerce in-

CANADIAN PACIFIC CANADIAN PACIFIC:
The strength in Canadian Pacific and the sympathetic advance in the "Soo" issues were a plain reflection of the bullish sentiment in Montreal. People who represent the pool here say that there is very little stock floating in the street, and think that the price could be advanced without much difficulty.

GOULDS THE FACTOR:

The afternoon trading was not specially active, but the tone was very firm with an advancing tendency. Gorld brokers continued the principal factor. But the presence of a number of strangers in town probably accounted for a very fair amount of outside business.

The bull tip on Southern Railway was current and apparently traceable to a Wester; house known to have been interested in the property since the time when Louisville changed hands.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC:

The talk of Southern Pacific was bull-ish, as it was thought that the market gave evidence that all the pool holdings had been absorbed in one way or the other. The Harriman-Interest was said to have absorbed a good deal of stock re-cently.
